

Comings and Goings !

As with all walks of life, people come and go, and our club is no different. Over the summer we had to bid goodbyes to a couple of swimmers from the senior squad.

Shane Drumm, joined the club as a senior swimmer at the start of the 2008/2009 season, although only with us one season, his infectious good humour will be missed.

Eoghan 'Pedro' Duffy, swam his first gala for the club, in January 2003 and his last race was on the 23rd of July at the Irish Youths/Open Championships. At this gala Eoghan took a bronze in the 200 Fly.

We wish both lads the best of luck for the future and hope they can look back at their time with Aer Lingus Swimming Club with fond memories.

Out with the old and in with the new, we are delighted to welcome three new senior swimmers.

Barry Murphy, an Irish international and Olympic hopeful, who is studying at the University of Tennessee, and who holds numbers Irish records has requested that he be registered with Aer Lingus for the coming season.

We hope to see Barry compete at the National Short Course Championship in November at the NAC.

Niamh McDonnell, has come home, 7 years ago Niamh left Aer Lingus to swim for Cormorants, but now she has been welcomed back with open arms. We won't tell you when Niamh swam her first Gala, let just say it was in the last century!

And last, but by no means least, Fiona Ni Chathasaigh, joins the senior squad after transferring from NCA Swimming Club.

The committee are sure you all join us in welcoming these three super additions to our club.
